

DOUGLAS O. REUDINK, PH.D.

Douglas O. Reudink, received a BA in physics from Linfield College and a Ph.D. in mathematics from Oregon State University. He joined AT&T Bell Labs in 1965 and worked in radio research the majority of his 21 years there. In 1986 he joined Boeing as Director of Labs at Boeing High Technology Center. In 1991 he joined US West NewVector group as Director of Wireless Planning. In 1995, he founded Metawave Communications Corporation, where currently he heads the Metawave's many research activities as CTO. Dr. Reudink is a Fellow of the IEEE, has published 40 technical papers and holds several patents in the area of wireless communications.